

Entertainment Weekly, a magazine for young people, has invited young people to send in articles on whether young people will continue to watch films at the cinema, rather than at home. The best articles will be published and the winning author will receive a tablet computer.

You have decided to send in an article. You should:

- describe the experience of watching films at the cinema
- compare watching films at home and in the cinema
- discuss where films will be viewed in the future

Write around 250 words. You should give your article a title.
