Fill in the correct tense!

Love for trains

Herbie loves trains! He first saw a train when he was five years old and he was absolutely fascinated. He went to a different train station every week and wrote down the engine number of every train he sees. He has been doing this since he was seven. By the time he left school he had collected over 5000 different engine numbers from all over the world.

At one time, while he was standing at a station he saw something very strange. He waited for a train for an hour when he suddenly saw an old steam locomotive coming down the tracks. It did not stop at the station and when it passed Herbie saw that all the passengers were wearing old-fashioned clothes.

He told the station manager about this, but the manager said that no steam locomotive had passed through the station for years, and that the last one crashed, killing everyone on board.
Herbie loves trains! He first saw (see) a train when he was five years old and he was (be) absolutely fascinated. He goes (go) to a different train station every week and writes (write) down the engine number of every train he sees. He has been doing (do) this since he was seven. By the time he left school he had collected (collect) over 5000 different engine numbers from all over the world.

At one time, while he was standing (stand) at a station he saw (see) something very strange. He had been waiting (wait) for a train for an hour when he suddenly saw (see) an old steam locomotive coming down the tracks. It did not stop (not stop) at the station and when it passed (pass) Herbie saw that all the passengers were wearing (wear) old-fashioned clothes.

He told the station manager about this, but the manager said that no steam locomotive had passed (pass) through the station for years, and that the last one had crashed (crash), killing everyone on board.